

Monique F. Achu

Monique has over 10 years of experience in program management, operations, and youth development. She most recently served as the Founding Manager of Operations at Brave Enterprises and was the founding Director of Programs for Mott Hall Bridges Academy where she developed and executed innovative programming and events.

She also led facilitation and delivered training to over 300 educators for New York City's biggest youth philanthropy program, Penny Harvest while working at Common Cents. Since the beginning of her career, she has been doing purpose-driven work striving to make an impact on people and their communities in a meaningful way. Monique holds a Master's degree in communications from Boston University and a Bachelor's degree in electronic media from Southern Methodist University. She currently is the coach and founder of the national qualifying middle school step team, RoyalVision.